12Dec2017	Worthing Archaeological Society	Nigel Rumble : The life of an English Soldier in the English Civil War" Nigel will talk about the clothes, weapons and accoutrements used by a soldier in England in the 1640's in his daily life. He will also briefly cover the make-up of the reproduction clothing and equipment and armies and talk a very small amount about battle tactics. The talk will be illustrated with (mostly) explanations of their use; there will be an opportunity at the end to examine these items more closely.
15Dec17	West Sussex Geological Society	Xmas Meeting.
9Jan2018	Worthing Archaeological Society	Robert Turner: The First Brexit How Britain became an island and its effect on Neanderthals, Mesolithic and Neolithic Man. Over the past 460,000 years Britain has been separated from Europe several times with the final split in 6,200 BC when the disaster of Dogger Land had a great effect into the Mesolithic peoples of that time. Recent discoveries by Imperial College London, operating from Littlehampton, have now been able to draw a picture of "what leaving Europe" meant in times past.
16Jan18	Friends of Worthing Museum	Roger Mayhew 'The War on a Postcard'

13Feb2018	Worthing Archaeological Society	Rob Wallace and David Millum: Bridge Farm 2011 to 2017 Rob Wallace and David Millum, the directors of the Culver Archaeological Project, will give a summary of their excavations of the Romano–British settlement at Bridge Farm, near Barcombe Mills, discovered in 2011 during a geophysical survey for Margary’s London-Lewes road. They will include a brief background to CAP as well and some initial thoughts about how this 1st to 4th century settlement fits into the wider context of southeast Britain in the Roman period and why it qualified for earthwork defences during the late 2nd century. The talk will cover the first 7 years of what looks destined to be a very long and regionally important investigation. John Pull Lecture Glass of wine or cup of coffee afterwards
15Feb2018	West Sussex Archives Society	Shoreham Fort : Past, Present and Future

13Mar2018	Worthing Archaeological Society	AGM at 7.00pm followed by Lecture at 7.30pm Dr Geoff Mead: Source to sea – the River Adur ‘Adur: Source to Sea’ takes a visual journey from the sources of the river in central Sussex, through the broad plains of the Wealden clays and sands before heading south through the Downs and on to the Coastal Plain of West Sussex, ending its journey at the current river mouth. This talk looks at the geology, geography and history of this small but fascinating watercourse.
20Mar18	Friends of Worthing Museum	Ian Gledhill Talk and Music “Glamorous Nights”.
10Apr2018	Worthing Archaeological Society	Dr Jaime Kaminski: The science of a Middle Bronze Age hoard In March 2011 a spectacular Middle Bronze Age hoard was discovered by a metal detectorist on land belonging to the Glynde Estate ‘Near Lewes’, East Sussex. Comprising nearly eighty artefacts and artefact fragments the hoard has recently been subject to scientific analysis. This presentation will consider what the analyses tell us about the production of the artefacts in the hoard and the implications for Bronze Age craft production.
